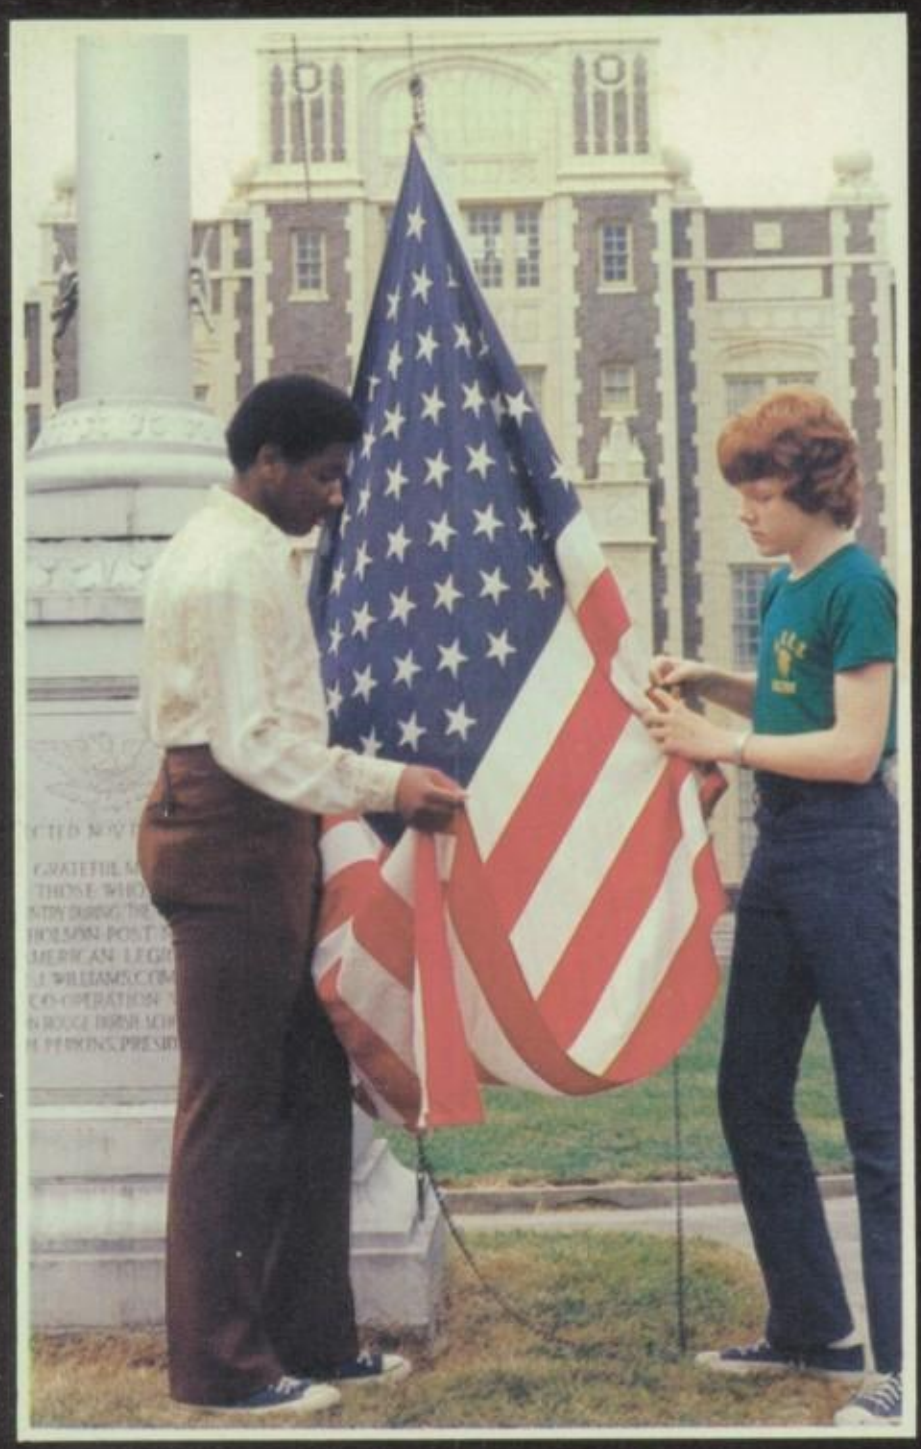
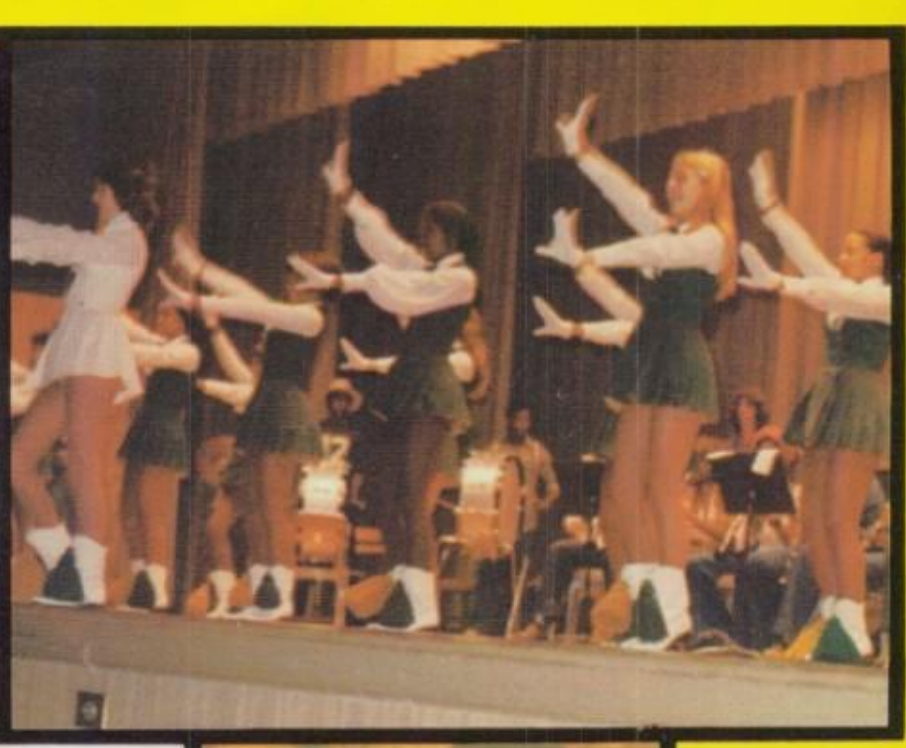
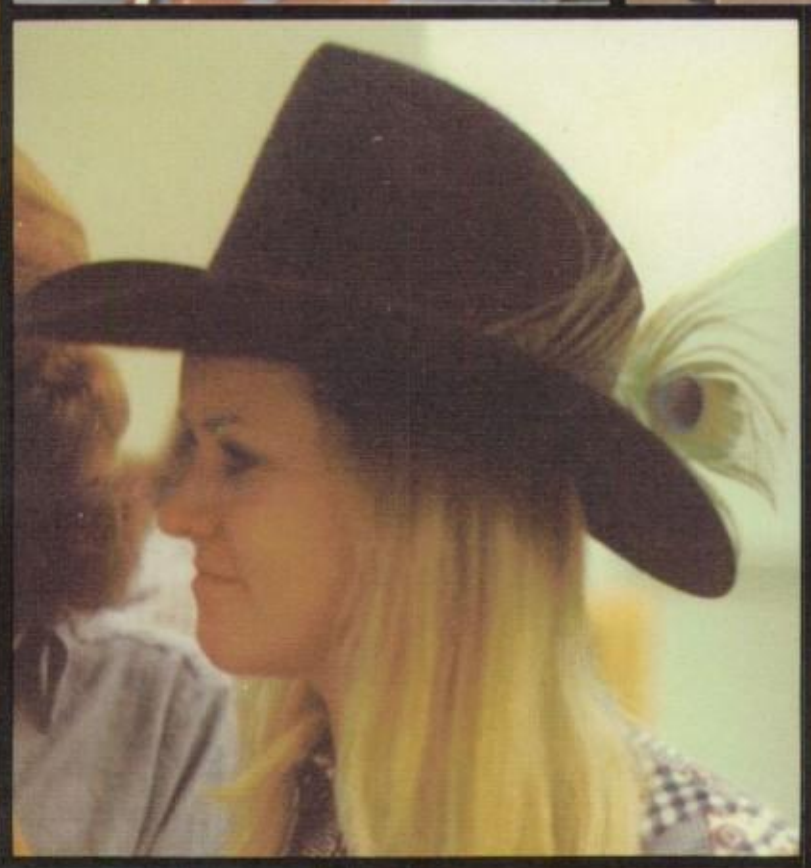
As the Bicentennial City of Baton Rouge paid tribute in 1976 to the two hundred years of our country's independence, students and faculty of BRHS celebrated the dawn of a new century of American life.

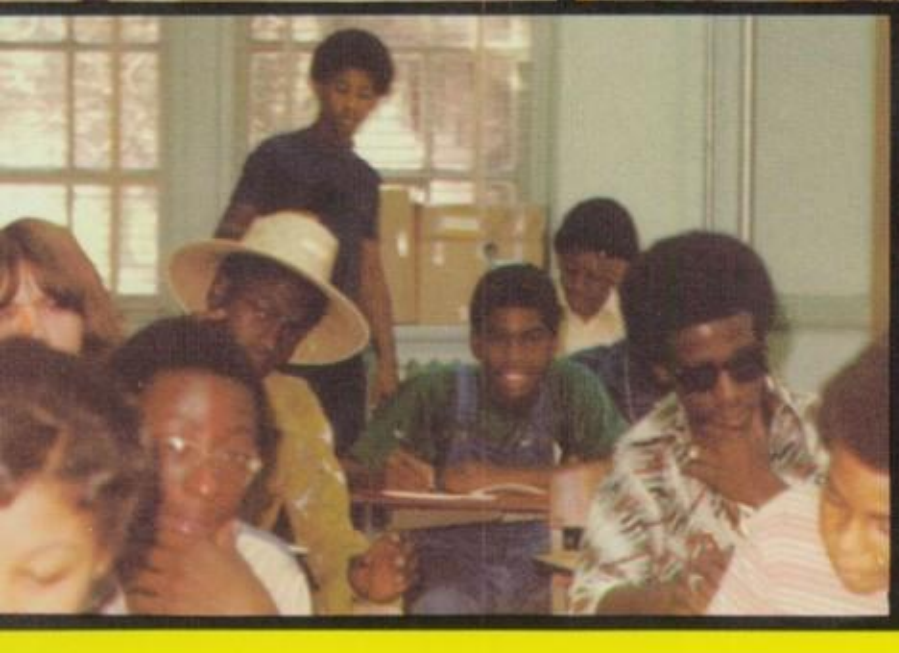


We took an active part in the life of our school.

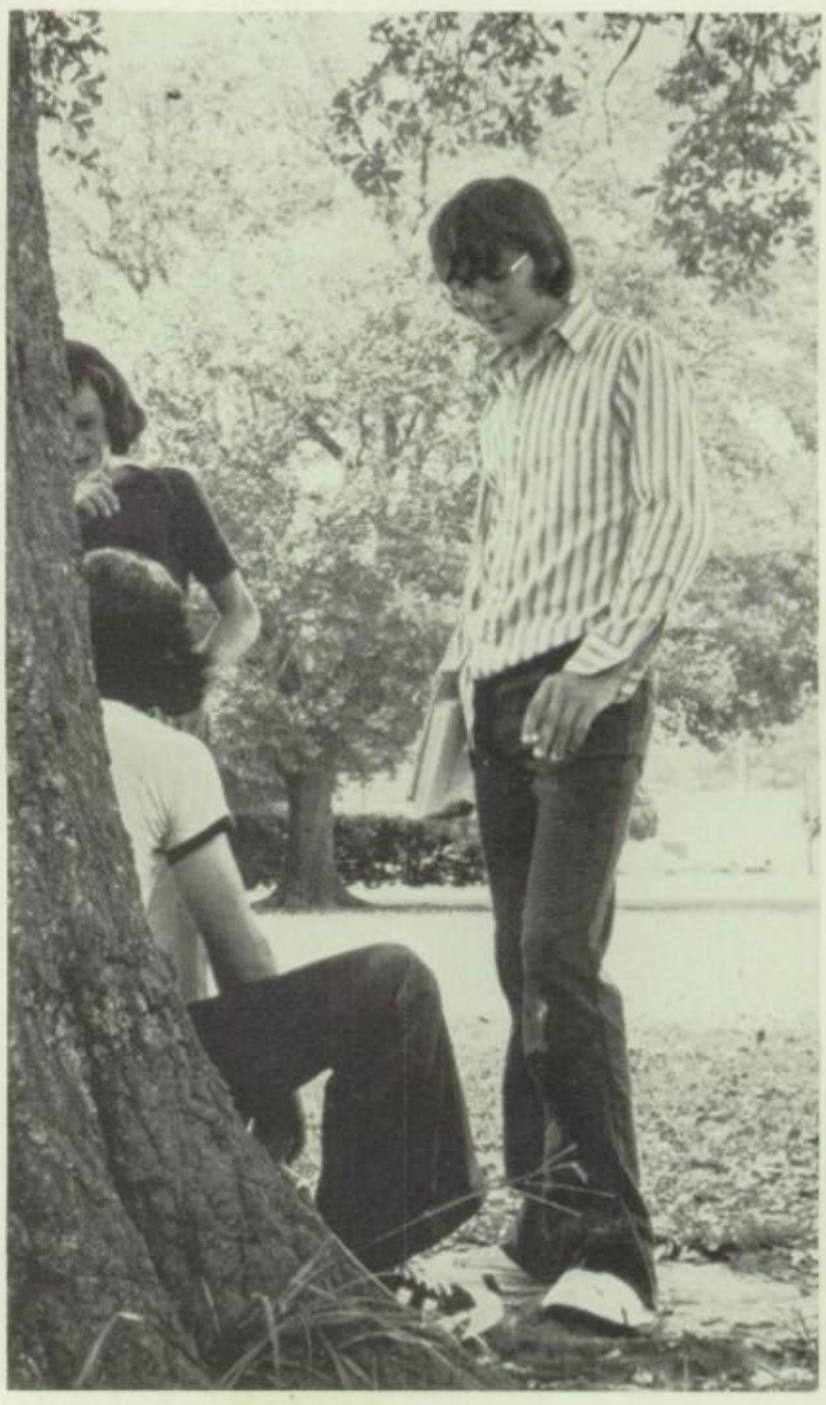
We drew strength from the great ideas and accomplishments of the past.

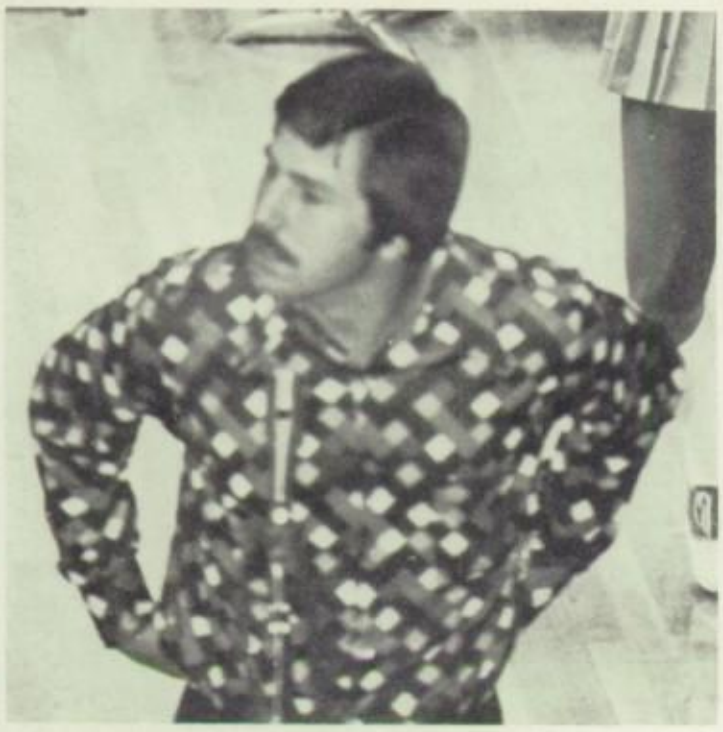




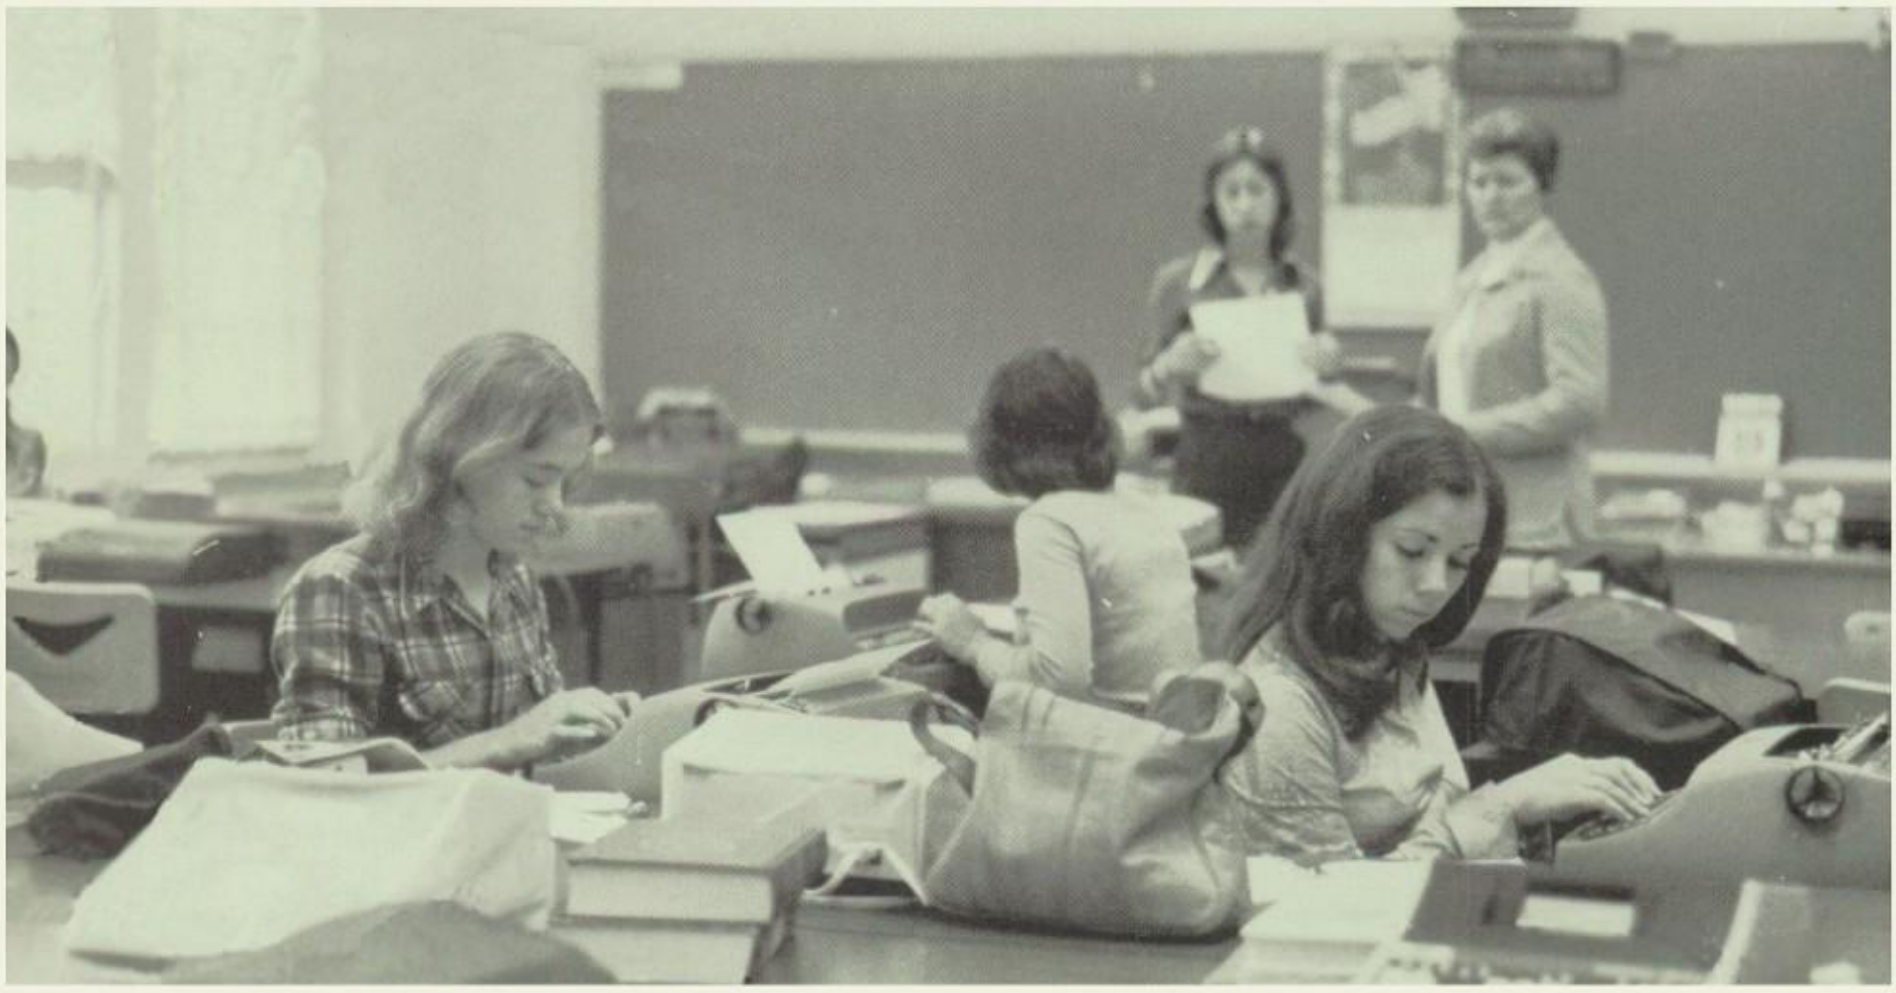


We joined together in friendship to meet the problems of the present.





B CLASS
R OF 1976
H
S



We recognized the challenge of responsibility for the future.

We celebrated the continuing joys and excitement of school life.

It was a year to remember — the year we honored the 200th birthday of our nation.

The Baton Rouge High School Key Club tried to achieve the primary objective of Key Club International, which is "to develop initiative and leadership." Our Key Club participated in such diverse activities as clerical work, sponsoring drives at school for food and clothing, and "buddying" underpriviledged children. New projects and activities, such as an extensive Bicentennial program, and work at LSSD were added. Sponsors were Dean Hulbert (far left) and Mr. Williams.

Boosters Kept That Spirit Up

Boosters were volunteers who endure long tryouts to become chiefs among B.R.H.S. "spirit builders" through cheering, precision drilling, and favor making.

Whenever Boosters were mentioned at B.R.H.S., the word "spirit" usually followed. During the cold wintertime they were the central backing of the football team. The Bulldog fans enjoyed the weekly pep rallies. As the basketball season came in, the Boosters found themselves in the gym, backing up the team.

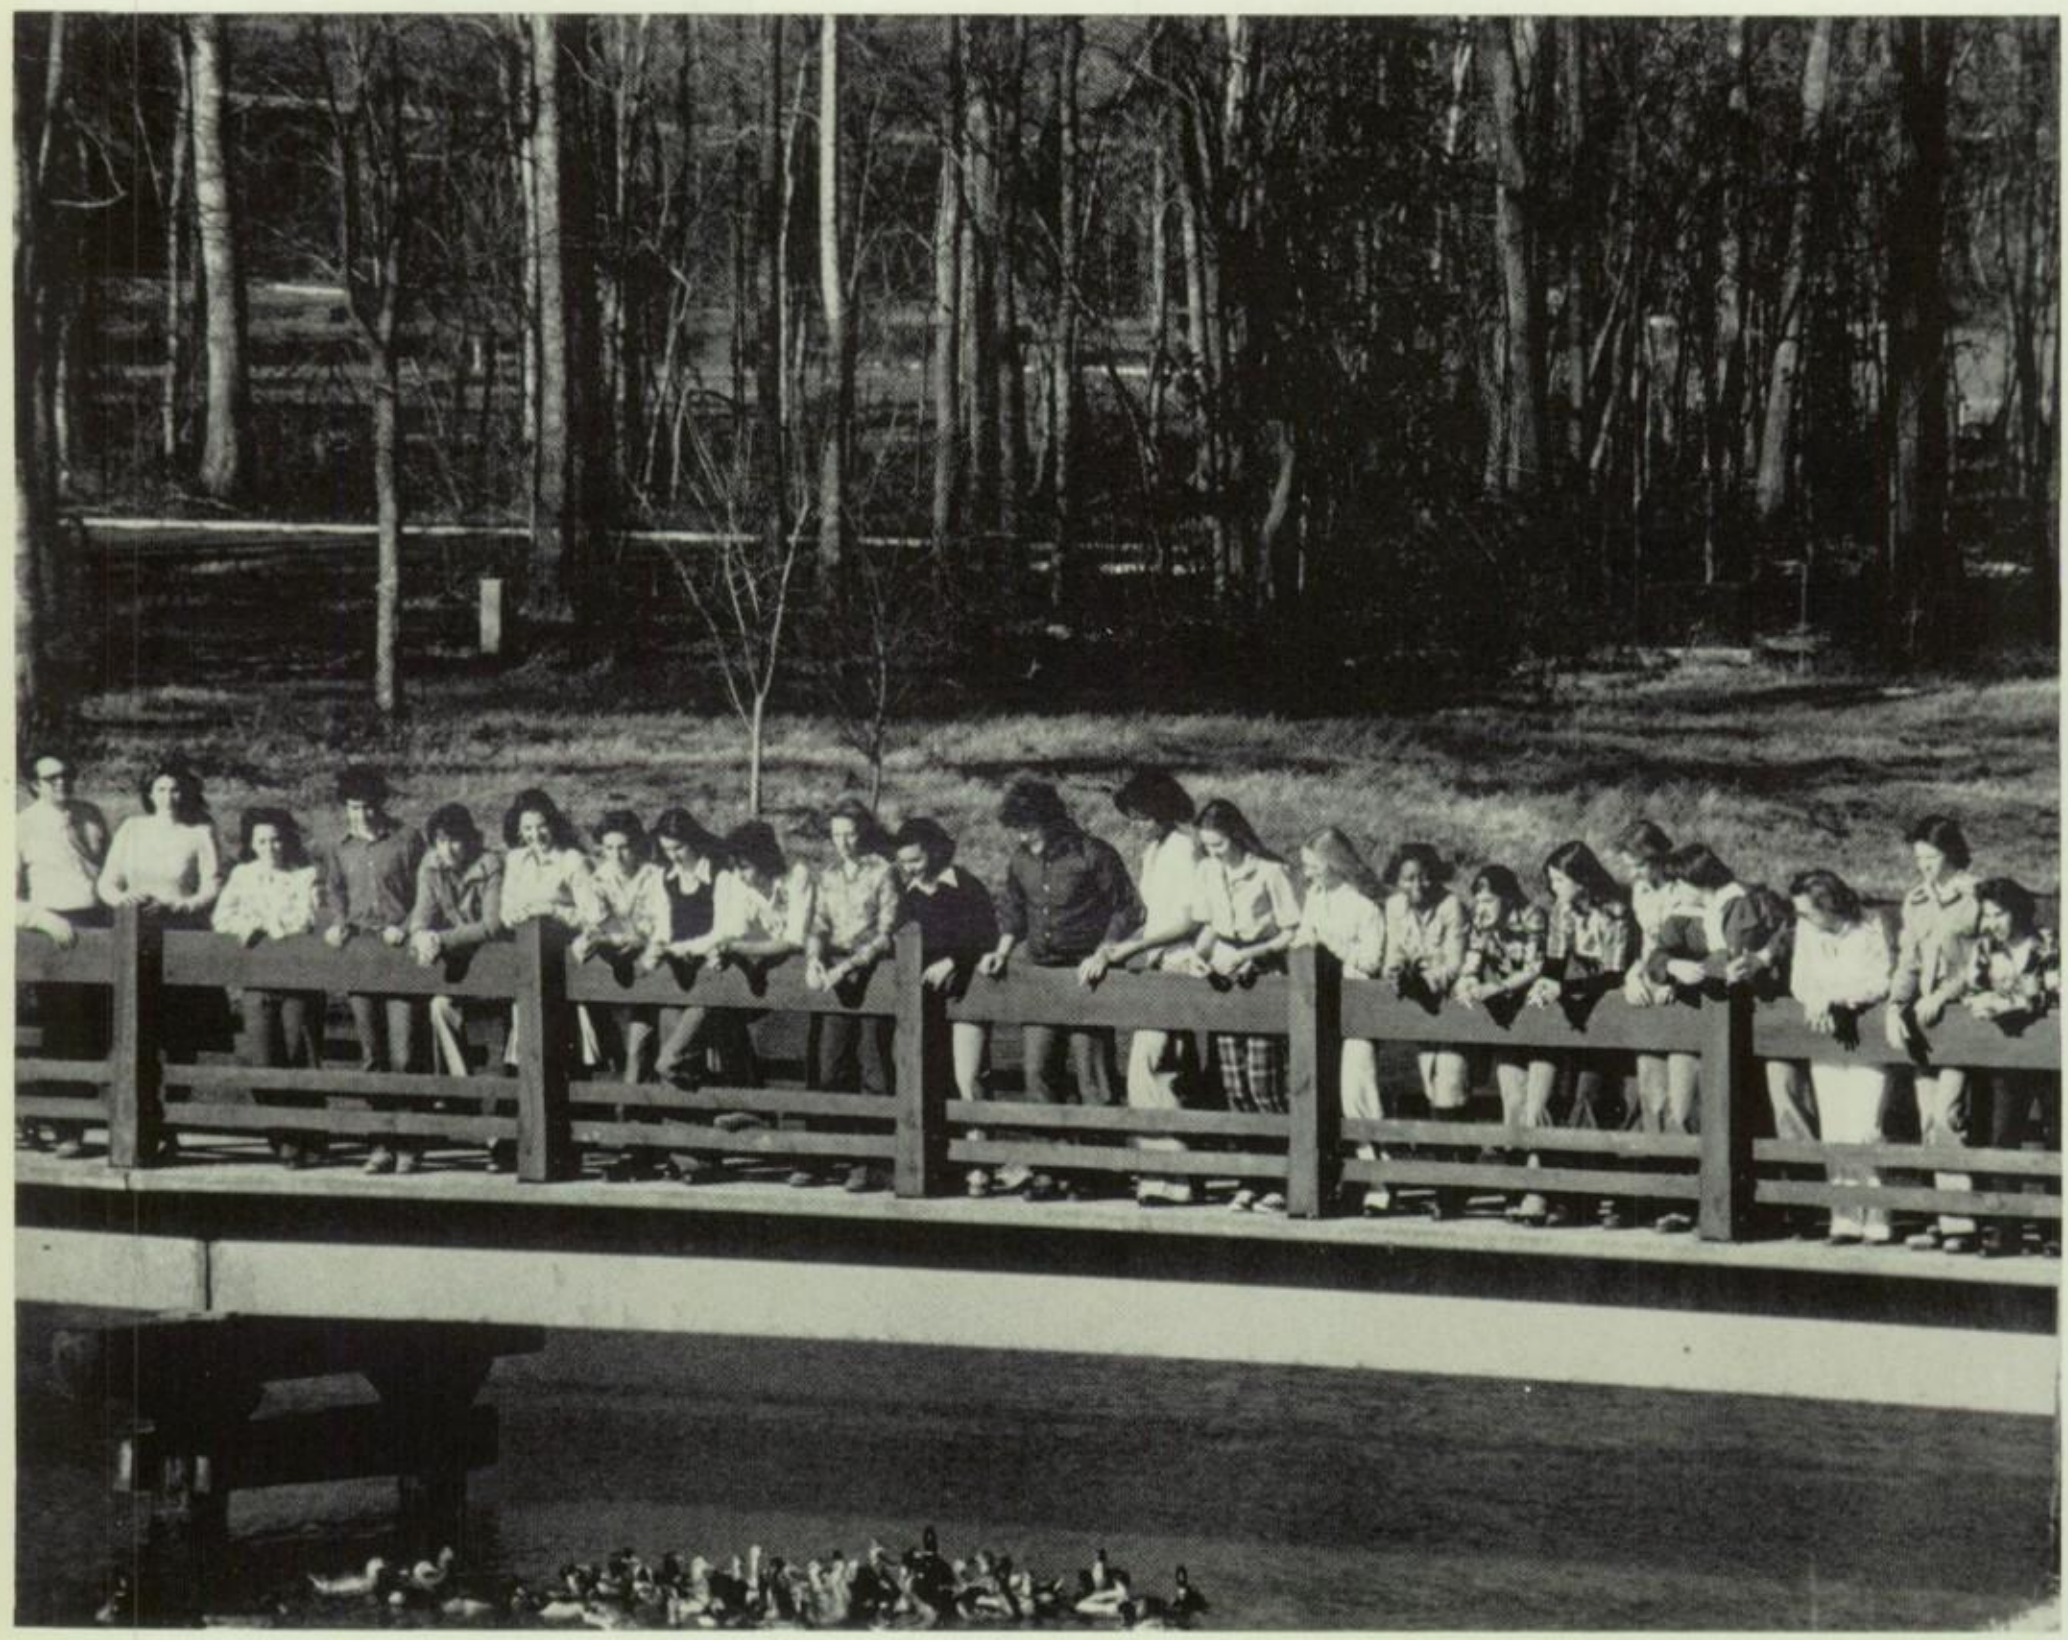
The 1976 Yearbook Staff



Baton Rouge High School was one of the first public schools in this parrish. Sixty-one FRICASSEES have shown the classes and events of BRHS school years. Now, a new school has been planned to occupy 2825 Government Street in 1976-77. The staff of FRICASSEE 76 paused at Walden bridge to reflect on the end of an important tradition.

The chief responsibility for planning this bicentennial edition belonged to editor-in-chief Keith LoBue. Business Manager David Durlacher kept the books balanced and still found time to take pictures and lay out the ad section. Faculty Advisors were Mrs. Laura Cotton and Mr. Guy Johnson.

Bicentennial Edition Was Last Fricassee

Part of the Organizations section was made by Sharon Collins, Robin Marshall, and John Webb. Leila Gosselink and Robin Mullins worked with the Junior section while Jim Harp and William Brewer worked on the Sophomore section. Terri Haffner and Tia Walker created the Features section.

Pam Spillman did wonders with the Senior section. Nicky Jones and Nancy Lockwood were the Athletic editors. Danielle Dodge worked on the Ads Section and Cheri Courville made the Freshman section. The Organization section was also created by Suzette Smith, Loretta Jones, and Linda Milligan. The Staff Photographers were Bill Maranto, Carolyn Thom, and Paul Lanoux.
